

Kent Cummins holding the trophy he won.
He stands next to his mentor Lou Berkie.

Kent performing in the Teen Show at the 1960 convention in Corpus Christi. Presenting his last trick, the Square Circle with a mammoth silk production, but one can see the evidence of "Is This Your Card?" a comedy trick in where Kent apparently had trouble finding a selected card. His opener was The (comedy) Rope Trick. Kent's entire act was framed with Bev Taylor's comedy signs, which he purchased from Louis Berkie at the Fun 'N Magic Shop in San Antonio.

An action picture of Kent Cummins performing in the 1961 teen contest in Dallas, assisted by Dena Lister (now Dena Britton). They are performing the U.F. Grant Super Jet Firebowl. They also performed the Zombie Skull in the act, an original creation. While the duo did not win, Dena eventually met and married Tom Britton, who won with a comedy magic act with his brother.
